

ABSTRACT

A system and process for real-time rendering of video images. A computer processes a set of video clips, images, and stills and simultaneously displays them on a screen. At any given time, a program processes the set along with transition and special effect frames and displays them to an observer.

09 03 09 03 16 11 20 09 03 06 02 05 03 01